

Research Sources for Leverington Cemetery

ANCESTRY (www.ancestry.com)

Ancestry provides digital copies of Levering Cemetery records via Genealogical Society of PA microfilms created from the original books. The collection of Leverington Cemetery records were divided into 2 groups in Ancestry card catalogue due to an indexing error. Additionally, some section heads are incorrect on the images -- it is recommended you follow this guide to locate records.

Details on records in each group, and where to find them within as follows:

Group	Book	Title	Dates covered	Starts at image	Paid Subscription Required
1	1	Lot Records, Records, and Interments	Not specified	3 of 701	LINK

FIND A GRAVE (www.findagrave.com)

The information found on findagrave.com is provided by "contributors" who are untrained volunteers that give generously of their time and energy. However, the accuracy of what you find on findagrave.com is dependent on legibility of headstones, transcription errors, contributors' knowledge, and more. Contact findagrave.com for any issues with accuracy.

As Leverington Cemetery and the Roxborough Baptist Churchyard have no defined boarder between them and literally blend into each other, ANYONE and especially visitors and volunteers can be unaware of which cemetery they are standing in. In fact, it is quite possible to have a foot in both and not realize. This can cause even the most careful volunteer to inadvertently identify the wrong cemetery in their notes/entry. It is worthwhile to check both cemeteries if you are having trouble finding a grave or family plot.
